

AN IDEAL STUDENT (Standard)

The men of the world who proved themselves the men of the words are worthy to be titled ideal

It is a great thing to be an ideal. The ideal is always perfect in every field. The ideal student has special qualities. He is regular and punctual in his work. He does not waste his time. His whole time and energies are for knowledge and useful activities. He is different from others. He has special qualities which make his special.

Education's purpose is to replace an empty mind with an open one

Early to bed and early to rise is the way to be healthy, wealthy and wise. Therefore, the ideal student gets up early in the morning. An ideal student takes bath and says his prayers. He begins the day's work with a programme. He attends his lectures in time. He has nothing to do with the bad jokes of naughty boys. He keeps away from bad fellows and chooses his friends with care. His inquiring mind makes him learn all the time.

The entire world is a laboratory to the inquiring mind

Studies are the first and foremost duty of the ideal student. He works hard to get knowledge. He does not ignore his body. He takes regular exercise. The development of body, mind and soul is necessary for an ideal student. He knows that without exercise health does not stay good. Therefore, he pays full attention to his health as well.

The ideal student has good habits. He takes the guidance of his parents and his teachers. He disciplines his body and mind. He learns those things which will benefit him in after life. He works hard to get success.

A good boy needs not feel sorry. He follows the example and advice of his parents and teachers. He knows that when old cock crows the young cock learns. He never ignores his parents or teachers. His education makes him learn new things. His habits make him successful in the ups and downs of his life.

Aristotle remarks:

Education is an ornament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity
